

Katja Müller

ZwickRoell GmbH & Co. KG

Katja Müller studied International Management and Marketing in Augsburg, Germany, including a term abroad in Paris.

Following completion of her studies she was employed in the field of new technologies and start-ups.

In 2000 she entered employment with ZwickRoell with responsibility for documentation of series products, where she was assigned to a wide range of products and applications.

2006 saw an increase in her responsibilities with a product management role in the fields of texture analysis and tests on packaging.

Since 2012 she has specialized in optical extensometers within product management.