

Vinay Desai, ZwickRoell GmbH & Co. KG

Vinay Desai has been involved in materials testing for over 15 years in various roles. He has a background in Business IT and Communications. He lived and studied in Dubai and Singapore, and now lives in Ulm, Germany.

Vinay Desai is currently responsible for product management of after sales products and solutions. He focuses on the product lifecycle, expansion possibilities and modernization of universal testing equipment. He is also the interface for international partners in order to develop region- and country-specific product strategies for modernizations and software upgrades of existing universal testing equipment.